

China Countryside Hotels

Customer Comments

Christmas visitor to The Schoolhouse raved about staying in the Red Door, one of our spectacular country homes with Great Wall views: "I wish this was my house..." Read the entire blog entry..

28 December 2009

I love the Hillside Haven and the Pavilion where I spent a great time with my family. The Schoolhouse Rental Homes are part of one the most lovely resorts in Beijing and I think The Schoolhouse has already become the most popular place to welcome tourists and visitors from around the world! --Maureen Meng, Beijing, July 2009

We have had a very good time each time we came to The Schoolhouse and it was particularly enjoyable when you helped booked multiple villas for a larger group for a birthday party or similar event. There are good cooking facilities so we can prepare our own dinner party; the design and surroundings are without doubt impressive; and I must say what makes the most difference is the decoration and service. Villas are equipped with books and other unique decorations that give them a homey feeling, rather than a bland hotel feeling; and it is the same for the service which is personal, relaxed and sincere rather than hotellish-snobbish. Stay like that! Finally I must say that Chef Randhir made excellent pasta last time (perfectly aldente) and the food matches the previous comments: it is unique, homey and very tasty. --Yannick Cornet, Beijing Expat, July 2009